FREE
consultations with experienced school lawyers to help you navigate the latest changes in education policy

Following the Government announcement that all schools must become an academy by 2022 and the subsequent U-turn, many schools have been left in a quandary...

- What are our formal partnership options?
- What are the benefits and challenges?
- What legal and governance considerations are there?
- What is the process?
- How do we make the right decision for our school?

Our FREE, no obligation 'Your Future' consultations provide clarity on these questions. We can meet with your headteacher, senior leadership team and/or governing board at your school to discuss and provide answers to such concerns.

Our team of lawyers, all of whom are school governors, have worked with over 300 academies since 2010 (6% of all academies in England). We have learnt a lot and want to share our experiences with you.

Every school is unique and has its own principles and priorities. That's why we're investing as much time as it takes to meet schools individually and discuss the specific issues you are facing.
