

Policy Guidance for the Management of Off-Site Visits and Outdoor Learning

2021

Foreword

Cornish schools have a long and rich tradition in outdoor learning and educational visits, and have provided a wide range of opportunities for their young people from reception class through to sixth form. The breadth of experience ranges from the school grounds, connecting with the local community, visits the length and breadth of the UK and foreign visits to every continent in the world (except Antarctica). These visits and activities play a significant part in the all-round development and education of our young people and often provide the most powerful memories of their time in school. Amongst other outcomes outdoor learning contributes to physical and mental health and wellbeing, builds resilience and self esteem, develops social skills and an appreciation of the natural environment.

The meticulous planning and organisation required for these experiences to be of the highest quality and effective in achieving the desired learning outcomes is a reflection of the commitment and professionalism of our school leaders, teachers, teaching assistants and volunteers who demonstrate a clear and passionate understanding of the benefits of such experiences.

We are delighted to be able to commend to you this policy guidance for educational visits and outdoor learning. It provides a framework that supports safe and enjoyable participation in activities outside the classroom which is so important for developing the full potential of young people in Cornwall.

Executive Summary

This document replaces 'Policy for the Management of Off-Site Visits and Outdoor Learning' and is to be read in conjunction with the Statement of Safety Policy, Education Visits Outdoor Learning and Off-site Activities. Please dispose of the old document and ensure that colleagues within your organisation are using this new updated guidance.

This guidance is for maintained schools, and for academies and any other organisations who engage Cornwall Outdoors for advice and guidance relating to educational visits and outdoor learning. In the latter case Cornwall Outdoors is acting as adviser to the employer, be it a multi-academy trust, a stand alone academy or any other organisation who engages the services of Cornwall Outdoors for this function.

An important part of this document is the use of the Outdoor Education Advisers Panel's (OEAP) National Guidance. This guidance can be found on the following website:

<http://oeapng.info/>

Please note the following:

All procedures currently in place will remain the same.

The headteacher/manager will continue to approve all visits.

In addition to headteacher/manager approval, visits in any of the following categories require endorsement from Cornwall Outdoors:

- Residential
- Foreign
- Adventurous
- Visits more than 50 miles from base

This must be done via the electronic Educational Visits form, of which your Educational Visits Coordinator will have details.

National Guidance has a number of sample forms and checklists which may be used. The CONSENT FORM to be found at Appendix 8 in this document is the minimum required by users of this policy.

If there are aspects of the guidance about which you are unclear please refer in the first instance to your Educational Visits Coordinator. Otherwise please contact Cornwall Outdoors on cornwalloutdoors@cornwall.gov.uk or 01872 326360/8.

Approval and Notification of Offsite Activities and Educational Visits

The Employer's policy must provide clarity on issues where responsibilities and functions are delegated. This is particularly critical in establishing requirements regarding formal notification and formal approval of activities.

Cornwall Council delegates the responsibility for formal approval of all off-site visits and outdoor learning activities to establishment Headteacher/Manager. It is a requirement of the policy that Heads and Managers carry out this function in accordance with the Council's/employer's guidance.

Although approval is delegated, establishments must notify Cornwall Outdoors of the following visits and activities so they can be endorsed thereby fulfilling in part the Council's responsibility to monitor such activities.

- A journey more than 50 miles away from base
- A residential or overnight stay
- An adventurous activity
- A foreign visit

The above notification procedure requires the submission of an Educational Visits Form via the electronic system. Forms must be submitted prior to a visit taking place; any forms submitted after a visit has taken place will not be endorsed.

Lead in times required:

- Expeditions to remote area: at the point of contact with a provider
- Foreign/residential visit: 3 months
- Adventure activity (day): 1 month
- Visits more than 50 miles from base: 1 month

It is a requirement that all Cornwall Council Children's Services' establishments and all Service Level Agreement members use the electronic system. For further advice and help using the system, the establishment should contact the nominated adviser at Cornwall Outdoors.

Planning

Standard and Enhanced Planning

See National Guidance – Basic Essentials, Foundations

The degree of complexity of a particular plan or policy (along with its supporting procedures) will need to reflect the nature and complexity of several variables that can impact on any given activity. These variables can be remembered as SAGED as explained below.

Staffing requirements – Trained? Experienced? Competent? Ratios?

Activity characteristics – Specialist? Insurance issues? Licensable?

Group characteristics – Prior experience? Ability? Behaviour? Special and medical needs?

Environmental conditions – Like last time? Impact of weather? Water levels?

Distance from support mechanisms in place at the home base – Transport? Residential?

Standard Planning and Risk Management

- Scope: Straightforward or routine visits or activities, on-site or off-site, which can be covered by standard operating procedures.

Enhanced Planning and Risk Management

- Scope: More complex visits or activities, for which specific planning and consent is required.

Standard:

Having standard operating procedures in place avoids having to reinvent plans on each occasion which is an unnecessary burden on visit leaders. Standard visits and activities should be straightforward to arrange, enabling and encouraging leaders to respond readily to off-site and outdoor learning opportunities. Your establishment's arrangements should support this. Using standard operating procedures is appropriate for visits and activities that an establishment organises frequently, as part of its normal programme, such as using the school grounds (for non-adventurous activities) or visits within a defined local geographical area. This is, in effect, a lesson in a different classroom, where activities happen as a normal part of the day.

In defining the geographical area and the type of activities to be included as Standard, the establishment should take account of the opportunities, facilities and resources available, any hazards or community issues, staff competence, the nature of the participants and the establishment's capacity to respond to an incident.

Whatever way an establishment chooses to determine standard visits and activities, the following should be covered within the standard procedures:

- A clearly defined geographical boundary
- Clearly defined activities
- Defined leader competencies and identification of approved leaders
- Induction and training
- Procedures to manage any significant generic risks identified
- Parental information and blanket consent (where consent is needed)
- Transport (eg the establishment minibus, local public transport)
- First aid
- Communications
- Visit Emergency Management Plan.
- Risk assessments have been completed.

Standard procedures should ensure that on the day:

- There is a sufficiently competent leader/leadership team
- There is an emergency base contact at the establishment
- The appropriate people know who has gone where, with whom, and when they will be back
- Approval has been given
- Visit Leaders have appropriate information about the individual needs of participants so that they can make specific arrangements for that group
- Effective communication between the establishment and the leaders is possible.

On the day, if there is anything non-standard about the group or the circumstances, it is important that plans and procedures are reviewed and adjusted as necessary. Unforeseen eventualities are dealt with by dynamic risk assessment. Standard procedures should be reviewed regularly to ensure that they remain robust.

Enhanced:

More complex visits or activities, which are not covered by standard operating procedures, should be regarded as being enhanced and require specific planning and risk management. Residential visits, foreign visits, adventure activities and more distant visits all fit within this category given their complexity, greater level of planning and the greater potential risk. Such visits require specific consent from parents/carers.

Planning Pathway

1. Clear learning outcomes

See National Guidance - Making the Case

Is there a clearly articulated educational purpose for the visit/activity appropriate to the age and ability of the intended participants?

Start with expected learning outcomes and benefits. A clear understanding of aims makes it easy to identify suitable choices for many other aspects of planning (such as venue, transport, competence of leaders, preparation of the group). Identifying the potential benefits is essential in making sound judgements as to whether the plan is reasonable, acceptable and viable.

2. Competent visit leader(s)

See National Guidance - Approval of Leaders

Is there a nominated leader (and deputy if necessary), both confident and competent in their role? Are all assistant leaders clear about their responsibilities and competent to perform them? Do both leader and deputy leader have authority to make decisions?

Competent leaders are able to operate effectively and have sufficient relevant experience and knowledge of the activities, the group, and the environments in which the visit will take place.

Employers should have clear processes for approving leaders to take charge of visits or activities. This should ensure that leaders are accountable, confident and competent to lead the specific visits or activities for which they are approved.

Being accountable means that the leader has been engaged through an appropriate recruitment process, which includes vetting and induction into the establishment's policies and procedures. The details of this process may depend upon whether the Leader is employed, contracted or acts as a volunteer. Regardless of a leader's employment status, they should understand the chain of accountability, what is expected of them, and the establishment's policies and procedures.

Being confident includes Leaders having the ability to take charge of a situation while being aware of, and understanding, their abilities, as well as their limitations.

Being competent means that the Leader has demonstrated the ability to operate effectively, and has sufficient relevant experience and knowledge of the activities, the group, and the environments in which the visit will take place. Competence is a combination of skills, knowledge, awareness, judgement, training and experience.

Records should be kept so that evidence of all the above are in place. This will include

- Induction into the school's policies and procedures

- Evidence of CPD
- Record of experience as a leader/assistant leader (this can be verified using the online EV form)
- Formal qualifications e.g. first aid, moorland leader

A checklist is to be found in Appendix 9

3. The programme

- a) Is the activity and location appropriate for age and ability of young people?

The establishment/school should be clear that the intended location, activity and delivery is within the capabilities of the participants and is the best way to achieve the intended learning outcomes.

- b) Does the accommodation meet the necessary requirements for security and fire safety?

- i. A pre-visit is strongly recommended so that you can consider the nature and location of the accommodation and the hazards of the immediate surroundings during the selection process.
- ii. Consider how secure the buildings can be made against unauthorised entry. If the building is shared with other users, consider whether the group's accommodation area needs to be made secure. If using a hotel or hostel, check whether there is 24-hour staffing of reception. Better security may be provided by avoiding ground floor rooms.
- iii. When using hostels or hotels the visit leader should check how many keys are available for each bedroom and where they are kept so as to avoid the re-issuing of rooms keys to other guests in error.
- iv. The sleeping accommodation is exclusively for the group's use, or rooms are located next to each other, ideally on the same floor. Supervisory staff should ideally be accommodated in rooms on the same floor, adjoining or close to their group.
- v. Check whether rooms can be secured if required and that leaders have access to a master key at all times.
- vi. Young people must be able to contact members of staff in the event of an emergency overnight, either by telephone or a set protocol.
- vii. Where shower and toilet facilities are not en-suite, consider arrangements for managing the use of shared facilities.
- viii. Young people and staff should know the layout of the accommodation, key personnel, fire precautions and exits and necessary regulations and routines
- ix. Consider using buddy pairs or teams, where appropriate, for indirectly or remotely supervised time around the accommodation.

- c) Have any third party providers been verified and engaged according to employer requirements?

See National Guidance – Assessing a Provider – Checklist

See National Guidance – Using External providers and Facilities

A ‘provider’ means any third-party person or organisation contracted to organise and/or deliver all or part of a visit or activity and may include support with supervision.

A ‘facility’ is a venue or resource, which will form part of a visit but where the establishment’s visit leadership team will lead and deliver any activities, e.g. museums, theme parks, theatres, when the venue does not provide teaching or instruction to the group.

Visit leaders should take advantage of nationally accredited provider assurance schemes thus reducing bureaucracy. Such schemes include:

- Learning outside the Classroom Quality Badge
- Adventuremark
- Adventure Activities Licensing Authority
- Association of Heads of Outdoor Education Centres Gold Award
- National Governing Body (e.g. RYA, BC) centre approval schemes

Where a provider holds such accreditation, there should be no need to seek further assurances. Where a provider does not hold any of the above visit leaders must send them a Provider Questionnaire which should be returned to Cornwall Outdoors for verification.

Visit leaders are strongly discouraged from using any providers who ask them to sign a waiver. See National Guidance – Contracts and Waivers

- d) Have contingency arrangements (Plan B) been prepared, where needed?

See National Guidance – Avoiding Accidents and Emergencies

Always prepare a Plan B and make sure everyone is aware of it. Do not be afraid to switch to Plan B where necessary.

4. Risk benefit assessment

See National Guidance – Risk Assessment – An Overview

See National Guidance – Risk Management – Some Practical Advice

See National Guidance – Risk Assessment – What to Record and How

Has the visit leader (and assistants) completed and recorded a risk-benefit assessment for all aspects of the visit for which they are responsible? Has the outcome of this process been shared with all members of the visit leader team so that there is a clear understanding of roles and responsibilities and how the visit/activity will be managed?

Employers have a legal duty to ensure that risks are managed - requiring them to be reduced to an “acceptable” or “tolerable” level. This requires that proportional (suitable and sufficient) risk management systems are in place, requiring employers to provide such support, training and resources to its employees as is necessary to implement this policy.

The risk management of an off-site activity should be informed by the benefits to be gained from participating. Cornwall Council strongly recommends a “Risk-Benefit Assessment” approach, whereby the starting point for any risk assessment should be a consideration of the intended benefits and learning outcomes. This appreciation of the benefits to be gained through participating provides objectivity to a decision that any residual risk (ie the risk remaining after control measures have been put in place) is “acceptable”. The Health and Safety Executive (HSE) endorses this approach through its “Principles of Sensible Risk Management” and advocates that it is important that young people are exposed to well-managed risks so that they learn how to manage risk for themselves. Used properly, sensible risk management is an invaluable tool for planning and managing off-site visits and outdoor learning.

Effective pre-visit risk assessments should identify the likely risks involved with the activity and the controls necessary to ensure that those risks are reduced to acceptable levels. However, Visit Leaders should be clear that ongoing (dynamic) evaluation of the risks will still be required in the event of changing conditions or unexpected situations.

The Assessment and control of significant risks is a legal requirement and the results of those assessments must be recorded. Schools subscribing to the Council’s Health Safety and Wellbeing (HSW) service will have access to an online risk management system which will guide them through the risk assessment process. There is no requirement for schools to use the Council’s system – but schools adopting this policy will be expected to carry out suitable and sufficient risk assessments which are of a comparable standard.

5. Has a preliminary visit been undertaken?

See National Guidance – Checklist Visit Leader

Preliminary visits are not mandatory but are strongly recommended and enable the Visit Leader to check the following:

- Will the venue or facility be suitable to meet the learning outcomes of the visit?
- Are there any particular hazards or threats which need to be considered in your risk-benefit assessment and emergency procedures?
- What will be your options if the conditions of daylight, water level, temperature and weather, or under-foot conditions, differ significantly from the pre-visit?
- Do you have sufficient knowledge and understanding of the venue, facilities and activities to feel confident when planning the visit?
- Will the venue be able to cater for the full range of group needs, including any individual or additional needs?
- Will the group need any specialist activity equipment?

- Are there any staff training needs?
- Will participants need any special preparation or training?

If no pre-visit has been completed what steps have been taken to ensure the Visit Leader is fully aware of educational opportunities and potential hazards?

Visit Leader check list to be found in Appendix 4.

6. Ratios: Is effective supervision in place?

National Guidance – Ratios and Effective Supervision

Staffing ratios are a risk management issue, and should be determined through the process of risk assessment. The following should be regarded as a starting point, as they may only be appropriate where the activity is relatively straight forward and the group has no special requirements:

5-8 year olds – 1 adult to 6 group members

Over 8 years old – 1 adult to 10-15 group members

Foreign visits 1:10 with a minimum of 2 adults accompanying any visit

Adventure activity: as per the relevant national governing body guidelines

Early Years

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) Statutory Framework (updated 3 April 2017) no longer sets out different requirements for minimum ratios during outings from those required on-site. As with other age groups, ratios during outings should be determined by risk assessment, which should be reviewed before each activity. The appropriate ratio on an outing is always likely to be higher than the legal minimum. It is not unusual for a ratio of 1:1 to be necessary.

Lone Working on Local Visits

A risk assessment must be completed where an experienced member of staff is leading a local visit by themselves. A contingency plan must be in place to cover the possibility of the member of staff becoming incapacitated so that measures are in place to ensure the safety and wellbeing of young people until further support arrives. Emergency contacts must also be in place.

7. Safeguarding

See National Guidance - Safeguarding

All adults involved in outdoor learning, off-site visits and learning outside the classroom have a responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and young people during these activities.

Such visits and activities have many benefits, but there are also potential safeguarding risks which should be considered during the planning process.

Visit Leaders must ensure that their training is up to date and they are informed of any children and young people who may be particularly vulnerable or have specific needs and ensure that other staff/adults are made aware as necessary.

Reporting

When any concerns about a young person are identified these should be reported to the establishment's designated safeguarding lead. When visits occur out of hours, or out of term time, you should ensure that adequate and appropriate cover arrangements are in place for this role.

If you have immediate concerns or are worried about a child or young person's safety, please telephone the Multi Agency referral Unit (MARU) on 0300 1231 116.

Disclosure Barring Service Checks

See National Guidance – Vetting and Disclosure and Barring Service Checks

An Enhanced Disclosure (currently known as a DBS Check) must be sought for all positions in 'regulated activity'. The full definition of regulated activity is found in Schedule 4 of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 as amended by the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012. For our purposes, an individual can become engaged in regulated activity either through what they do (a defined activity) or where they work (a specified place).

Defined activities

Defined activities include the following when they are carried out frequently or intensively:

- Any form of teaching, training, instruction, supervision or care of children (see 'regulated activity under supervision' below, for exceptions when the activity is, on a regular basis, subject to the day to day supervision of another person).
- Provision of advice or guidance to children relating to their wellbeing.
- Driving a vehicle that is being used solely for conveying children and their carers or supervisors.

Defined activities also include the following even if the activity is carried out only once:

- Health care provided by, or under the direct supervision of a regulated health care professional.
- Personal care involving physical assistance (or required prompting with supervision, advice or training) with eating, drinking, washing, dressing, bathing and toileting for reasons of age, illness or disability.

Frequently means the same person engages in the activity once a week or more.

Intensively means the same person engages in the activity on 4 or more days in a 30-day period (or in some cases overnight between 2am and 6am, where there is opportunity for face to face contact).

Regulated Activity Under Supervision

Teaching, training, instruction, care and supervision of children are not regulated activity if they are, on a regular basis, subject to the day-to-day supervision of another person who is engaging in regulated activity (and therefore appropriately vetted). The day-to-day supervision must be reasonable in all circumstances to protect the children concerned. The Department for Education (DfE) has issued statutory guidance on this. You may need to copy and paste the link into your browser.

Exchanges and Homestays

See National Guidance – Exchanges and Homestays

See Annex E (“Host Families – Homestay during Exchange Visits”) of the DfE statutory guidance for schools and colleges “Keeping Children Safe in Education”, which is available at:

When an establishment arranges for host families to provide young people with accommodation during a visit (including if it uses a third party provider to make the arrangements), it has a duty to take all reasonable steps to ensure that young people are placed in appropriate homes and are safeguarded.

The establishment must decide whether DBS checks should form part of the process of homestay vetting. This should be done using the principles outlined above, taking into account the nature of the homestay arrangements.

However, it must be clearly understood that a DBS check (or other vetting procedure) in itself, is no guarantee as to the suitability of an adult to work with any given group of young or vulnerable people.

The placement of an adult within a situation of professional trust (where young people could be vulnerable to physical or mental exploitation or grooming) should always be on the understanding that an overview based on a common sense risk-benefit assessment process has been considered.

See National Guidance document: Vetting and DBS Checks.

For further advice and guidance contact your employer’s HR Safeguarding Team or for maintained schools and Cornwall Council establishments contact HR Safeguarding on 01872 324130 or email hrsafeguarding@cornwall.gov.uk.

8. Informed consent

See National Guidance – Parental Consent

Have parents/carers been provided with full information about the visit to enable them to give informed consent?

It is recommended that schools ask those in a position of parental responsibility to complete a consent form at the beginning of the school year to cover standard activities. Specific consent should be sought for activities requiring enhanced planning typically

- Residential visits
- Foreign visits
- Adventure activities
- Activities for which a charge will be made

A school must always get written consent for nursery age children.

A sample consent form is to be found in Appendix 8.

9. Have staff, young people, parents/carers been briefed appropriately according to the nature of the visit?

See National Guidance – Group Management and Supervision

See National Guidance – Guidance for Parents

Staff: clarity over roles/responsibilities during the visit, expectations of behaviour, SEND or medical needs, arrangements for indirect supervision if applicable, head counts, mobile phone protocol, significant hazards, emergency procedures.

Young people: kit list, suitable clothing, mobile phone protocols, code of conduct, significant hazards, emergency procedures.

Parents/carers: need to have sufficient information to be able to give informed consent for their son/daughter to take part. Typically, this might be via a letter. For more complex visits (eg a residential) it is recommended that a meeting with parents/carers is held.

10. Is the visit fully inclusive?

See National Guidance - Inclusion

The Equality Act states that the responsible body of a school or, for other provision, the service provider, must not discriminate against, harass or victimise a pupil or young person because of one of the protected characteristics (disability; gender reassignment; pregnancy and maternity; race; religion or belief; sex; sexual orientation) in the way that it provides (or not) a benefit, facility or service. There is a duty to make reasonable adjustments.

Every effort must be made to ensure that outdoor learning activities and visits are available and accessible to all, irrespective of special educational or medical needs, ethnic origin, gender or religion. If a visit needs to cater for young people with special needs, every reasonable effort should be made to find a venue that is both suitable and accessible and that enables the whole group to participate fully and be actively involved.

Establishments should take all reasonably practicable measures to include all young people. To accurately match the needs of all children close liaison between the visit leader and the SENCO is strongly recommended. The principles of inclusion should be promoted and addressed for all visits and reflected in establishment policy, thus ensuring an aspiration towards:

- an entitlement to participate
- accessibility through direct or realistic adaptation or modification
- integration through participation with peers

11. Effective first aid cover is in place

National Guidance – First Aid

First aid provision for any visit/activity should take into account the nature of the activity, any likely associated injuries or infections, the group and the location based on the extent to which the group is isolated from support and the emergency services. This should be determined by the visit leader based on risk assessment.

For children in the Early Years Foundation Stage, there is a statutory requirement that at least one person who has a current paediatric first aid certificate and sufficient understanding and use of English to summon help in an emergency must accompany children on outings.

12. Emergency procedures are in place

National Guidance Off-site Visit Emergencies – The Establishment’s Role

An effective emergency plan and designated emergency contact(s) are in place and available for the duration of the visit. All details of the visit/activity are accessible to the emergency contact throughout the period of the activity. All members of the visit leader team are aware of the emergency procedures.

Cornwall Council’s Emergency Procedures are included in Appendix 5. It is recommended that the aide-memoires for the Visit Leader and the Emergency Contact are customised to your establishment and carried by the relevant parties.

13. Transport arrangements are in place and meet employer requirements

See National Guidance Transport for general considerations

Minibuses

Schools and other establishments should at all times adhere to legal requirements and follow their employer's guidance. The employer's insurer's requirements also need to be adhered to.

Use of private cars - See National Guidance Transport in Private Cars

Employees are required to have business insurance if they are transporting young people. Schools must advise volunteer drivers (eg parents) to check with their insurers that they have the appropriate cover for transporting young people.

Smaller Ferries, Passenger and Fishing Boats

Cornwall is surrounded by the sea and as a consequence there are numerous different ferries and fishing boats that provide water transport. All of these vessels are classed as being commercial and as such must conform with the certification, survey, safety and manning standards applicable to their area and type of operation.

Should you wish to check that the boat/ferry that you are planning to use is appropriately certified, section three of the following link gives the names and addresses of Certifying Authorities in Cornwall.

https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment\_data/file/302862/min\_281.pdf

14. Adequate insurance is in place

See National Guidance - Insurance

Employer's Liability Insurance is a statutory requirement for all schools. Academy schools should check with their own insurance company to ensure adequate cover is in place. Cornwall Council holds a policy that indemnifies it against all claims for compensation for bodily injury suffered by any person employed by it. This cover extends to those persons who are acting in a voluntary capacity as assistant supervisors. Cornwall Council also holds Public Liability insurance, indemnifying it against all claims for compensation for bodily injury from persons not in its employ, as well as for the accidental loss of, or damage caused to, third party property. Employees (as agents of the employer) are indemnified against all such claims, as are voluntary helpers acting under the direction of the employer's staff. The indemnity covers activities such as off-site activities and visits organised by all establishments and settings for which the employer is responsible.

Personal Accident Assault Insurance is provided for all Cornwall Council employees in the course of their employment, providing predetermined benefits in the event of an assault. Visit/Activity Leaders are advised that they should consider taking out personal accident cover privately, or through a professional association.

Cornwall Council Visit and Activity Leaders should contact the Insurance Section to seek clarification of the above, including any circumstances requiring early notification of specialist activities to the insurer. They should also ensure they have obtained current information regarding any special policies that may be available to offer more comprehensive cover.

For further guidance contact Cornwall Council's Insurance Section insurance@cornwall.gov.uk 01872 323850/3447 or your employer's insurers.

15. Arrangements are in place to finance the visit and meet employer requirements and charging regulations

See National Guidance - Charges for Off-site Activities and Visits in an Educational Establishment

Headteachers/Managers, Curriculum Planners, Educational Visits Coordinators (EVCs) and Visit/Activity Leaders must take account of the legal framework relating to charging, voluntary contributions and remissions as set out in Sections 449-462 of the Education Act 1996. This applies equally to employers within a standalone academy or multi-academy trust.

In addition due consideration should be given to ensuring that Visit Leaders have access to sufficient funds in the event of an emergency, eg requiring an additional night's accommodation if unable to travel due to adverse weather.

16. Monitoring

National Guidance – Monitoring

The Headteacher and/or the EVC must ensure there are procedures in place to monitor outdoor learning and educational visits. It should be done in such a way that it is a positive experience for leaders, with supportive feedback to enable them to reflect upon and improve their practice. Monitoring should ideally include an element of observation in the field, perhaps undertaken by the Headteacher, EVC or another experienced Visit Leader. A formal method of recording all monitoring should be employed. There are many ways of identifying what to monitor, for example

- Achievement of intended learning outcomes
- Sample monitor across the full range of provision
- Activity that is more complex, requiring enhanced planning and management
- New or less experienced staff
- Staff who regularly work in isolation or not seen for a long time
- Sessions with which management may be least familiar
- New activities or venues or those with potentially the greater risk.

17. Arrangements for evaluation of the visit/activity are in place

It is important that the establishment evaluates its outdoor learning and educational visits. The following questions are especially important.

- Did the activity/visit meet the intended learning outcomes?
- Was it value for money?
- Would we repeat the visit/activity?
- Would we use the provider/accommodation/transport again?
- Any near misses/accidents/incidents?
- Do the risk assessments need reviewing?

A format for evaluating the visit can be found in Appendix 6

Emergency Procedures

Emergency procedures are an essential part of planning an educational visit and all members of the visit leadership party must be familiar with them before the departure. Some incidents can be resolved through an on-the-spot response by the Visit Leader however, in the event of a serious incident, which could range from an injury or illness requiring medical treatment to a fatality, the following procedures must be followed. The Visit Leader must ensure that these procedures are implemented as quickly and efficiently as possible in order to facilitate help and support for pupils, parents, and staff. All staff should have available a copy of these procedures and other relevant information on all visits.

For the purposes of these procedures a serious incident is defined as

- 1). A situation where a group member:
  - has suffered a life threatening injury or fatality
  - is at serious risk
  - has gone missing for a significant or unacceptable period
- 2). Any incident that is beyond the normal coping mechanisms of the Visit Leadership Team.

Mobile phones

A mobile phone is an essential item of equipment for a Visit Leader and may save valuable time in the event of an emergency. However, difficulties frequently arise with mobile phones due to reception, battery power or insufficient credit. Mobile phones should complement and not replace traditional safety and communication procedures. Visit Leaders should know the mobile phone numbers of other key staff in the party.

Visit Leader First Response – Care of the Group and Colleagues

See Appendix A for actions and checklist

Action for Establishment Emergency Contact on receiving a call

See Appendix B for information checklist

All emergency contacts must have by their telephone:

- lists of all group members (including adults) together with the addresses and telephone numbers of their contacts/ next-of-kin
- complete details of the itinerary
- telephone numbers of senior staff from the establishments concerned
- Contact details for Learning and Directorate as below

In the event of being alerted to an emergency during an off-site visit use the following to guide your actions:

- Stay calm – use the checklist below (Appendix B) to record essential information.
- Consider the actions you need to take and contact the appropriate people.
- Reassure the caller and keep them informed of your actions.
- Record all information you receive and actions you take.
- Delegate tasks as and when possible/appropriate to allow you to manage the situation.

Emergency Procedures for Educational Visits

25 January 2017

Depending on the circumstances and the support required you will need to consider some or all of the following:

- Inform your own senior colleagues (and governors).
- Inform your employer (eg the Local Authority). They will assess the level of response required which may involve deploying the Tactical Coordinating Group to give support to you, the party, and parents/carers.

Emergency Support Team – school/establishment-based

- Establish an Emergency Support Team, which may need to include the following roles (combine if insufficient staff are available):
  - Overall Controller
  - Coordinator with group (consider keeping the same person to always speak to the Visit Leader)
  - Communications (could be a number of people dealing with different aspects)
  - Logistics – making arrangements (eg transportation/accommodation) for the group and any travelling team if required
  - Resources – eg office space, reception for any visitors (parents/carers, media), refreshments / food – Site Manager, admin support
  - Record/log keeper
- Keep a log of all actions, communications and decisions, including the people involved and times.
- Arrange alternate and additional phone lines so that incoming calls do not swamp communications. Consider other means of communication such as internet, email and text.
- Liaise with your employer over liaison with emergency services, media, tour operators, insurance companies as necessary.
- Carry out the actions required to support the Visit Leadership team.
- Decide if a 'Travelling Team' is needed to provide support at the scene.
- Ensure the security of your site and ensure that access is monitored and controlled (elements of the press may well seek to gain access wherever they can).
- Make arrangements for relatives to be accommodated onsite or nearby, if necessary, while they wait for news.
- Arrange for the return or onwards travel of the party, and/or arrange transport for parents to the scene/hospital
- Control communications and the flow of information to the affected group, parents, other establishment staff (beware of other staff inadvertently starting rumours circulating).
- Control information to the media – use the expertise of your Employer's communications team and direct all media enquiries to them.

Emergency Procedures for Educational Visits

25 January 2017

- Make arrangements for meeting the group back from the visit and returning children to parents.
- Consider the possible need for future emotional support and care for anyone involved (don't forget other staff, young people and the Emergency Support Team as well as those directly involved).

Contacting the Directorate during or outside office hours

Telephone Fire Control 0203 162 2240. There is a duty officer 24 hours a day. Indicate clearly:

- (a) that it is an emergency on an educational visit.
- (b) that you need to speak to the Emergency Management Officer as soon as possible.
- (c) where you are, who you are and your telephone number (including direct codes if possible – particularly if you are abroad).

Your message will be passed on and an officer will telephone you as soon as possible. Please remain by the telephone.

PLEASE NOTE – do not speak to the news media under any circumstances other than to refer them to the Communications Officer at County Hall, 01872 322186

  3. Delegate to Assistant Leaders if possible so you can keep an overview of events.

- Refer all media, parental or other enquiries to your employer's press office.
- An adult from the party should accompany any casualties to hospital
- Consider the physical needs of the group and casualties in terms of shelter, refreshments, transport/repatriation.
- Consider the emotional needs of the group such as removing them from the scene, providing support (they can often do this for each other), giving them useful things to do.
- Control communications - prevent group members from using phones or going online unsupervised or until approval is given.
